

Privacy Statement

This Privacy Statement provides a summary of how we collect and use information related to your insurance with the Dawson Insurance Agency. Maintaining the confidentiality of our clients' personal information is of the highest importance. This information is protected under the law. We never sell your information to anyone.

Confidentiality and Security

We maintain appropriate standards and procedures to prevent unauthorized access to your information. We restrict employees' access to your information to the purpose of providing products or services to you and other reasons permitted by law.

Information We Collect

Depending upon the types of products and services you are requesting, we collect information from you in person, by mail, on the internet, electronically or by phone. We collect nonpublic personal information about you including information on applications and other forms, such as your name, address, social security number and marital status. We may also obtain information from third parties such as insurance companies or consumer reporting agencies regarding your credit score, demographic and related data, CLUE report and motor vehicle driving record.

Disclosure of Personal Information

Under the law, we may disclose all of the information listed above. For example, we may disclose information:

- To authorized personnel to provide you with outstanding service and additional products.
- To servicing third parties that are necessary to service, process or administer business transactions in connection with your account.
- To others such as credit bureaus, regulatory authorities, insurance support organizations.
- To other third parties, such as a leinholder, mortgagee or lessor.
- To joint marketing companies that perform marketing services on our behalf or to financial institutions with whom we have joint marketing agreements.
- To claim adjusters, appraisers, investigators and attorneys who need the information to investigate, defend or settle a claim involving you.

Former Clients

If you decide to terminate your client relationship with us, we will continue to adhere to the privacy policies and practices described in this Privacy Statement.

Access to Personal Information

You have the right to know what kind of information we keep in our files and to have reasonable access to it. We strive to keep accurate records of your information. If you see any error in any of our communications to you, please contact us and we will promptly address any inaccuracy that may have occurred.